Springfield, MO — May 3, 2026 — Andy's Frozen Custard® is celebrating a sweet race day as Sam Mayer finished third at the Andy's Frozen Custard 340 at Texas Motor Speedway. To mark the top five finish, the award-winning frozen custard and treat shop invites fans nationwide to enjoy $1.00 small cones on Monday, May 4, 2026 at participating locations.

“Race day is all about bringing people together through shared moments, and we’re proud to celebrate with our fans in the sweetest way we know how,” said Andy Kuntz, CEO, Andy’s

Frozen Custard. “Our fans show up for us every day, and this is our way of sharing that excitement back with them.”

Fans cheered on Sam Mayer, Cole Custer, and the Andy's Racing Team throughout race weekend as the Andy's Frozen Custard 340 delivered high-speed action at Texas Motor Speedway.

For more than 30 years, Andy's has been a proud supporter of motorsports, and that connection takes center stage as the “Sweet Since '86 Roadshow Tour” launches at Texas Motor Speedway. The Andy's 340 serves as the starting line for a celebration that blends speed, tradition, and the brand's signature sweet treats. About Andy's Frozen Custard

Founded in 1986 in Osage Beach, Missouri by Andy's parents John and Carol Kuntz, Andy's Frozen Custard has been providing the freshest frozen custard in the business for 40 years, giving ice cream the “cold shoulder” by scooping, mixing and presenting handcrafted frozen custard treats with speed and a smile. Since the beginning, the family has had one dream: to share what makes them happiest with everyone else, and to warm hearts, one scoop of frozen custard at a time.

With a focus on product quality, customer service and community involvement, Andy's has grown into the nation's largest frozen custard-only business, with more than 3,500 employees and 180 company-owned and franchised stores across 15 states proudly serving the World's Finest Frozen Custard. Offering over 54,000 flavor combinations, Andy's gives treat lovers endless opportunities to customize their perfect dessert. In honor of 40 years, the brand continues its commitment to giving back by donating more than 5,000 treats annually to local children's charities in each of its store locations. Andy's also offers the ‘#FANDys Loyalty Program,’ designed to say “thank you” to loyal customers by earning points to redeem towards a free treat for every dollar spent.
